

SEVEN ROOTS

OF THE CENTENARY LANDSCAPE OF WINE

Ruta del Vino
Rioja Alta

Old town Haro

If you are reading this guide, you're probably in one of the towns of the Rioja Alta Wine Route. Read on to learn more of the history surrounding the world of wine, and the social, monumental, ethnographic and economic changes brought about by this undeniable protagonist.

In this land, wine is legend and reality. It's no wonder that it homes the greatest number of centennial wineries in the world. Large, small, monumental, artisanal... as many wineries as generations have devoted their life to cultivating and making the wine that gives the land its name. The historical winery quarters, such as the one near the Haro train station, wineries built underground and ancient rock wine presses, present in many of the towns, are proof of this.

In the towns on the route, you'll discover the unique history surrounding the world of wine and their unique features.

Although wine is the driving force of the routes, visitors will also find other interesting attractions detailed in this guide.

The Way of St James, which traverses part of this land, is one of example, where pilgrims witness and experience the remnants of this wonderful ancient past.

And perhaps, due to the nature of this crossroads and melting pot of cultures, people in these lands are known for their hospitality and generosity with visitors that have come to learn more about their culture and customs.

Another interesting path to travel is the Romanesque Route, on the western-most area, which harbours epic monuments of a great cultural and heritage value. Romanesque wasn't the only style that left its mark in this area, the legacy of Baroque, Gothic, Plateresque and Renaissance styles lives on in civil and ecclesiastical buildings in these towns. Of the six monasteries found on this itinerary, five are still in use.

All in all, visitors will feel their souls nourished with the vast cultural and artistic heritage; their bodies with the magnificent food and lodging establishments on the way; and their spirit through the relationships and conversation with the locals. We invite you to step into this land and enjoy an unforgettable experience.

Our first itinerary is inspired by wine, the star of this guide. Although it's present in all the towns on this route, we've drawn a simple and varied itinerary to these five towns.

The starting point of your visit doesn't matter. If starting at Haro, stop by Barrio de La Estación (Railway Quarter), where you'll find the most important group of centennial wineries in the world. The quarter received its name for its proximity to the railway station, which facilitated the international expansion of the product. Nowadays, these wineries produce renowned wines of excellent quality. It is possible to tour these carefully restored facilities.

From here, move on to the rest of the towns. In addition to their own unique features, you'll find traditional wine cellars and historic wineries, where wine was produced and stored. Some are even being restored for touristic purposes.

Briones hosts an extraordinary wine culture collection at the Vivanco family museum. Ollauri is home to the oldest winery in La Rioja. San Asensio houses a district with more than 250 historic wineries that intercommunicate through passages worth exploring. Rodezno's must-see is a beautiful preserved urban winemaking ensemble.

Wine, driving force of this route, has a special and unique meaning here.

Ábalos cuenta con numerosas construcciones de sillería

Hotel Los Agustinos, en Haro

El territorio de La Rioja Alta cuenta con numerosas casas solariegas que serán las protagonistas de nuestro segundo paseo. Están construidas con piedras de sillería y son originarias de los siglos XVI, XVII y, en menor medida, del XVIII.

Las familias nobles de los siglos XVI y XVII mostraban su rango social y distinción a través de las casonas solariegas

La razón de ser de estos singulares edificios fue la de servir de pequeños palacios a familias nobles de la época. Con ellas mostraban su rango y distinción y, hoy, son sede de viviendas, estableci-mientos públicos, así como de hoteles y restaurantes que muestran el esplendor de antaño.

Buena parte de los municipios de La Ruta del Vino Rioja Alta, albergan estos majestuosos edificios. En Ábalos, por ejemplo, destacan el palacio del Virrey de Ábalos y la casona del Marqués de Legarda. Briñas, también es sede de numerosas casonas bien conservadas con la bella singularidad de sentir el río Ebro en el interior de sus cimientos. Finalmente, el municipio de San Vicente de la Sonsierra atesora numerosas casonas de este tipo además de un extraordinario puente medieval, construido en el S. XIII y rehabilitado en el S. XVI.

Navarrete is known for its pottery tradition

Vineyards irrigated by the Ebro river in Cenicero

Cenicero has one of the longest wine traditions in the area. In fact, a large part of its economy is based on grape cultivating, wine making and its surrounding industry. Centennial wineries and traditional wine cellars are scattered around the town, and coexist with Celt, Iberian and Roman archaeological sites, that prove its long history.

Along this fourth route you'll visit Uruñuela, home of the church of San Servando and San Germán, with four beautiful wooden Rococo reredos.

Without leaving the vineyards you'll arrive at Huércanos. Its wine production cooperative showcases how important wine is for the economy of its neighbours. Don't miss the church of San Pedro and the different manor houses in the old town.

Then, the itinerary will take you to Navarrete, the quintessential pottery town, the only one remaining in La Rioja. Tradition and connections to pottery are displayed in the existing factories (most of them, from the 1980s), as well as in art pieces, such as the sculpture 'Homenaje al alfarero' (A tribute to potters) by the Riojan artist Óscar Cenzano. The town also hosts the annual pottery fair NACE.

In addition to this professional and economic speciality that permeates the town, Navarrete has incredible heritage buildings from the 16th, 17th and 18th centuries with prominent heraldic and iron fittings. Worth mentioning is the cemetery entrance, in Late Romanesque style, one of the few left in La Rioja.

All the towns have heritage jewels that are worth seeing.

A pilgrim crosses the stone bridge into Logroño

People socialising on calle Laurel, Logroño

The bustling calle Laurel heralds a route full of wineries and wonderful food.

If the Way of Saint James didn't already cross La Rioja, it would need to be re-routed. The hospitality of the people in this area is an example for visitors and pilgrims alike.

When travellers arrive to Logroño from Navarre, they cross the stone bridge over the Ebro river. There, they catch a glimpse of the city's skyline, dominated by the must-sees: the church of Santa María de Palacio, the co-cathedral of Santa María de la Redonda, and the church of Santiago. Making a culinary stop at the most famous pincho and tapas streets (calle Laurel, calle San Juan and its vicinities, as well as some of the wineries in the capital of La Rioja) is mandatory.

From there, continue your path by following the steps of the thousands of pilgrims that pass through here each year. First, visit the pottery town of Navarrete (route 4), one of the milestones in the Way of St James and the Ignatian Way. Then, continue on to Fuenmayor, an important wine-making town with vast vineyards, fundamental to their economy, and wineries—not to be missed.

The next stop is Nájera, commonly known as the 'furniture capital', due to its manufacturing and furniture sale businesses. This town and its region also have agriculturally-based activities, especially vineyard-oriented. Regarding patrimonial buildings, the Monastery of Santa María La Real is worth a visit. Built by king García Sánchez III in the 10th century, it became an episcopal see and a royal mausoleum.

Yuso Monastery, birthplace of Castilian,
San Millán de la Cogolla

Cloister of the Monastery of Santa María la Real, Nájera

Few valleys have the same patrimonial wealth as the valley of the Cárdenas river. The itinerary starts at the main town in the region, Nájera, where you can visit the Monastery of Santa María la Real. Built by king García Sánchez III and finished in 1052, it's a mixture of Baroque, Late Gothic and early Renaissance styles. Its royal mausoleum houses the twelve graves of two different dynasties (Abarcas and García Ramírez). The Cloister of the Knights is the burial site of many noblemen.

The Yuso and Suso Monasteries are World Heritage Sites and the birthplace of the Castilian language. The first words in this language were written there.

From here, cross the towns of Badarán and Berceo to reach San Millán de la Cogolla. Its twin monasteries Yuso and Suso were declared World Heritage Sites and birthplace of the first words in Castilian, written by the most famous poet of the valley, Gonzalo de Berceo. Suso (upper) was built on the site where eremites, disciples of Saint Emilian, lived in the 6th century. Yuso (lower) was an addition to Suso in the 11th century, rebuilt during the 16, 17 and 18th centuries. They're a mix of styles, mainly Renaissance and Baroque.

Few valleys have the same patrimonial wealth and beauty as the valley of the Cárdenas river.

These impressive buildings hold great treasures, such as a library still furnished as at the end of the 17th century. The library and the archive are considered some of the best in Spain.

The itinerary ends at the Cistercian Abbey of Cañas, started in the 13th century. Its main entrance was finished in the 18th century. Some of the highlights of this abbey are the church, the great Renaissance reredos and the doorway to the chapter house.

Enjoy Treviana and its Romanesque Centre as the starting point of this itinerary and a place to gather more information. To get the most out of this region of the Rioja Alta Wine Route, visit the screenings, exhibits, stonework pieces and educational workshop spaces.

The pilgrimage to Santiago de Compostela allowed the Romanesque to spread rapidly.

With the silence that dominates the Romanesque style, head to the town of Castilseco, where you can visit the church of San Julián, a small temple with particularly beautiful nave and chancel, with a semi-circular apse.

From there, stop at Villaseca, home of the church of San Román, the best and most complete example of Romanesque from Santo Domingo de la Calzada. It's a beautiful temple in Riojan Romanesque style from the 12th century with a wonderful apse. Under the main square there is a necropolis with graves, which may indicate that the cemetery was located around a larger temple.

Continue on to Treviana to the chapel of La Concepción, a quaint unfinished Romanesque building that was recently restored. The ending point is Cuzcurrita de Río Tirón and its beautiful chapel of Sorejana, built in the 13th century and extended in the 16th century with three Gothic sections. In 1981 it was declared 'Bien de Interés Cultural' (Cultural Interest Asset).
